

Join us for DISConnections!

Friday, January 12, 2024 from 12-1PM

The Dissemination and Implementation Science Collaborative (DISC) is hosting DISConnections beginning in 2024, a monthly informal get together open to anyone at MUSC who is interested in dissemination & implementation (D&I) science. The DISC team works in a wide variety of settings and sectors (public health, cancer, telehealth, and clinical care) and through DISConnections, you will have the opportunity to informally meet and network with others interested in the implementation science field. Don't consider yourself a D&I scientist? Interested but just getting started? You're welcome too!

Join us for our first meeting on Friday, January 12 from 12-1PM via MS Teams
